

Sheela Basrur Centre Annual Public Health Symposium

Vision

The success of public health programs and strategies hinges on the knowledge and ability of those entrusted with their responsibility. To be effective, individuals and organizations across the public health spectrum need access to the latest research findings, forward-thinking expertise, and best practice guidelines informed by current scientific knowledge.

The Annual Public Health Symposium will:

- Promote knowledge transfer and ongoing awareness of critical issues in the next generation of public health;
- Enable the Ontario Agency for Health Protection and Promotion (OAHPP) to be proactive in providing educational opportunities related to emergent threats;
- Stimulate discussion and debate on relevant issues faced by the sector today;
- Encourage students and individuals at all stages of their professional careers to learn from prominent leaders and innovative thinkers;
- Provide participants with invaluable networking opportunities, and
- Help to educate a highly skilled public health workforce.

For more information on this program please contact us at: learning@oahpp.ca