

Sheela Basrur Centre Visiting Lecturer Program

Vision

To help secure Ontario's position as an international leader in public health, the individuals and organizations that constitute its continuum must be aware of the latest trends, emergent threats, and the advanced research that inform its strategies. The dissemination of timely insight, advanced knowledge, and expertise from leading thinkers will create an environment in which new ideas and inspiration can flourish to affect positive change.

The Visiting Lecturer Program will:

- Enable the Ontario Agency for Health Protection and Promotion (OAHPP) to recruit a high profile, national or international public health professional or researcher each year to deliver the keynote address at its Annual Public Health Symposium;
- Create an opportunity for the Visiting Lecturer to spend time at the Sheela Basrur Centre working with trainees in public health;
- Encourage the sharing of knowledge and expertise and the formation of new partnerships through visits planned for the Visiting Lecturer at other Ontario academic health science centres for up to seven days in advance of the Symposium;
- Encourage students and individuals at all stages of their professional careers to learn from prominent leaders and innovative thinkers.
